60% Voter Turnout In Yorba Linda

Yorba Linda voters turned out in force to oust three incumbent city councilmen while Placentians returned Mayor Jack Gomez to office and elected John Tynes to a second seat in a light vote.

Former Planning Commissioner George Machado, Henry Wedaa, and Rudy Castro ousted Mayor Herb Warren, Burt Brooks and Bill Ross from the council seats they had held since incorporation. Reelected were councilmen Whit Cromwell and Roland Bigonger.

Vote totals in Yorba Linda were Machado, 1428; Wedaa, 1335; Cromwell, 1229; Bigonger, 1176; Castro, 1166; James Matych, 1132; Warren, 1083; Sid Radus, 1034; Brooks, 923; Ross, 880; Bob Schurr, 518; Bill Clay, 484; Robert Hollingsead, 439; Larry Klempner, 379; Gary W. Gray, 329; Mary McCormick, 253; Anton Groot, 101; and Katherine Cavataio, 78.

A total of 2,871 voters out of a registered total of 4,868, or 60 per cent, turned out to vote in the hotly contested election.

In Placentia Gomez and Tynes were sent into office on a landslide vote. The other eight candidates were far behind in the field of 10. Only 2,532 of the 7,609 registered voters turned out for a 33 per cent vote.

Totals for the candidates in Placentia was Gomez, 1,274; Tynes, 1,036; Harry Dunskey, 469; Curtis Cook, 439; Dorothy Gibbs, 383; Mike Callahan, 348; Armando Vasquez, 330; Bernard Waskowski, 306; Daniel J. O'Halloran, 161; and Bill G. Burnett, 75.

Even though there was a large field of candidates issues were virtually non-existent in Placentia as the voters chose experience over new faces. Both winners are long time residents of the city who have been involved in schools and city for many years.

The Yorba Linda election was just the opposite with two clearly discernable slates running for office. One slate consisted of the incumbent councilmen and the other consisted of Machado, Wedaa, Castro, Matych and Radus. Only the split in the vote among the other candidates kept one or the other group from sweeping all five seats.

The basic issue was reasonable development of the city as opposed to maintaining a small, quiet, rural community as a haven from the large metropolitan area.

With the change in councilmen there will most likely be a change in city personnel if not a change in city direction.

Placentia Teachers For Present Schedule

Although a minimum day has been scheduled for today for intermediate and high schools in the Placentia Unified School District to allow teachers to study ways of cutting the curriculum for next year it is doubtful whether such a study will in fact take place.

Meeting at the first of the minimum days, faculties at both El Dorado and Valencia high schools voted support for the present staffing ratios and present course outline as approved by the board of education March 31.

The board had authorized a higher staffing ratio for next year last month. The ratio, presently 21-1 in high school and 23-1 in intermediate schools would be raised to 28-1 and 30-1 respectively.

Mrs. Joan Higbee, president of the Valencia faculty club, said that the teachers did not see any reason to discuss changes in the curriculum because they were not planning on any changes.

An agreement to develop staffing allocations based on the lower ratios was reached at a meeting April 7 between Superintendent Murrell M. Miller and members of the budget advisory committee. This decision was communicated to teachers in a letter written the morning of April 9.

The board of education will review the report of the budget advisory committee at its April 27 meeting. In a statement issued April 6 the board promised that there would be no cuts in instructional personnel until this report had been considered in its entirety.

The budget problems and talks of teacher cuts arose early in March when staff members totaled up all requests for funds and potential income and found a deficit of nearly $700,000 between income and expenses.

At that time it was felt that some cuts might have to be made in certificated personnel in order to bring the budget into balance.

Planners Turn Down Fotomat Application

The Placentia Planning Commission approved several use permits at its regular meeting Tuesday night but denied a permit requested for a Fotomat in a service station at Rose Drive and Yorba Linda Boulevard.

A major development approved by commissioners was a permit to allow a 120,000 square foot warehouse to be developed by the Overmyer Co. on the southeast corner of Melrose and Orangethorpe. The only dissenting vote was by Commissioner Bill Beggerly, who contended that the building would end up as no more than a truck terminal instead of a warehouse operation.

The permit had been continued from the previous meeting where design and landscaping problems caused the delay.

The Fotomat request was denied with commissioners Mike

Callahan, Rod Jimenez, Lee Wilcox, and George DeJesus voting against. Their main feeling was that the location on a service station site was not the proper place for the use.

A permit for a Hofbrau type beer bar in the Stonewood Center was approved, also on a split vote with Armando Vasquez voting against. The establishment will serve beer, wine and some food.

Revisions to the trailer park ordinance were approved by a unanimous vote of the commission. The new ordinance will tighten regulations pertaining to trailer parks in an effort to make them more compatible with residential uses.

A request for a trailer park at Van Buren and Morse was continued on request of the applicant.

Yorba Linda Needs A New High School

Yorba Linda needs a high school.

For years residents of the city of Yorba Linda and residents of the Yorba Linda School District have been pressing for the construction of a new high school to serve the over 1,000 local youngsters who are daily bused across Placentia to go to school at Troy High School.

Many residents of this city, especially newcomers, question why this arrangement ever came about and why it has been allowed to continue by the Fullerton Union High School District, of which Yorba Linda is a part.

Before 1930 the Fullerton Union High School District covered the entire northern portion of Orange County, taking in Brea and Placentia as well as Yorba Linda.

In the early 1930's both Placentia and Brea broke away. Placentia unified along the boundaries of several elementary school districts in the area east of Fullerton. Yorba Linda was the only area community which refused to join the Placentia district and continued its association with Fullerton.

Since then Placentia has grown to the point where it has two high schools and a third in the planning stages to be constructed southeast of Yorba Linda.

A large portion of southwest Yorba Linda and eastern Yorba Linda is now in the Placentia Unified School District. A new junior high school is now under construction in eastern Yorba Linda.

Meanwhile the Fullerton Union High School District keeps making promises to the people in the Yorba Linda Elementary School District that, yes, they are planning to build a high school in Yorba Linda someday. The latest projections call for construction sometime in the next two to five years.

Property has been purchased for a high school in the extreme northwest corner of the district in a portion of the old Carleton Tract. Purchase of property in the area has taken several years because of the many small absentee landowners in the area.

Yorba Linda has three options if it wants a high school in its community. First, it can unify along elementary district lines, pass a bond issue and build its own school. Second, it can propose a unification with the Placentia school district. Third, it can sit tight and wait for Fullerton to build a school within the district.

The first option would give local control to the schools but would cost the district more in taxes because of the lack of an industrial or commercial tax base.

The second would not raise taxes in Yorba Linda but would raise them in Placentia. There is some question as to whether the residents of Placentia would permit the Yorba Linda district to merge with them.

The third would leave things pretty much as they are now. In a few years Fullerton may begin to build a high school in the community but has shown no inclination to do so yet so will probably wait several more years.

The final solution to the problem is up to the residents of the Yorba Linda elementary School District. It is their choice as to which course to follow.

We are not pushing any one course of action. We do feel however that Yorba Lindans, with their history of fighting for something they believe deeply in, should stop talking about wanting a new high school and start organizing behind a united effort to either unify, merge, or force action from Fullerton in starting to plan and construct the school Yorba Lindans wish so much to have.

FJC Holds Breathe In Wednesday

The ecology movement in the United States will be supported on the Fullerton Junior College campus by a "Breathe-In" day Wednesday, April 22.

The goal of the day will be to empty the college parking lot of all automobiles and gasoline driven vehicles by encouraging students and college employees to arrive at the college by some other means—bicycles and all other non-gasoline-motorized vehicles are being recommended.

In recognition of the fact that some students live a great distance from the campus, leaders of the movement are suggesting that these students park at least a mile or two from the campus and find some other means of transportation to go that last short distance.

Listed as specific objectives for the "Breathe-In" are the following: to test the willingness of individuals to endure personal inconvenience for the sake of reducing air pollution; to develop an awareness of the necessity for personal participation in the fight against air pollution; and to develop an awareness of each individual's personal contribution to air pollution through his own use of the internal combustion gasoline engine.

Other stated objectives, according to Larry o'Hanlon, FJC instructor who has been a leader in the ecology movement, are to develop an awareness of the alternatives (or more likely the lack of alternatives) to the use of the automobile for personal transportation and

Watch Your Parks

Within the next few months Placentia will have five new neighborhood parks and several community recreation buildings. These parks were built with money voted by the citizens of Placentia in 1968.

So far the greatest problem the city has had in its presently under construction park system is vandalism. Vandalism which is done mainly by a small group of rebellious children who have no respect for public property.

The recent vandalism at McFadden Park is only the latest in a series of events, so far concentrated around Koch and Tuffree Hill parks, that have caused several days or even weeks of delay in completing those parks.

The worst part of construction, where equipment is left out in the open overnight and which is the most tempting time for vandals, is now about over.

Completion of the parks will not stop vandalism. It will lower it because of the greater use the parks will not be getting. But there will still be times when the parks are not being used and when they will be subject to vandals.

The police department has issued a call to all citizens to be especially alert in watching the parks. They have asked for anyone seeing any suspicious actions in any of the parks to call them immediately.

We call on the citizens of Placentia to respond to their duty as citizens who have a part interest in every park here and to become involved in the protection of their park system.

City Council Considers Architectural Review

The Yorba Linda City Council has requested that a joint meeting with the Planning Commission be set up for sometime after the elections to discuss an administrative report on architectural control submitted to the council at its last meeting.

The report, written by City Administrator Darrell Dalton, outlines ways of changing the zoning code to provide the control the council desires.

Several changes in city codes were suggested by Dalton. First civic center zoning providing for control around civic buildings such as schools, the library, and the fire station on all properties within about 600 feet could be instituted.

This type of zoning has been used by Placentia around its public buildings and parks.

Second is to require architectural review for all variances, use permits, planned development, planned community and architectural overlay zones.

The third control would be to require that all apartment projects containing more than one building be subject to a use permit with architectural control.

Fourth a resolution of intention to employ architectural control could be passed by the city. While review would not be mandatory under this resolution, developers would be encouraged to comply with the requirements as an indication of their concern for the beauty of the city. This latter method would apply in only those few areas not covered by other areas of controls.

Dalton suggested a detailed procedure to ensure that control is maintained.

The first step would be to hire a city architect on a consulting basis to review plans with developers before any detailed plans are drawn. The architect would be financed through and architectural review fee.

Under the proposed procedure the applicant would receive a packet of appropriate city ordinances, would then be counseled by the city architect, then submit his design.

If he disagreed with the architect's ruling there would be provision for appeal to an appeals board consisting of two licensed architects, one licensed landscape architect and two community leaders not on any other commission. The decision of this board could be appealed to the City Council.

Discussion of the possibility of setting up such a procedure was started by Councilman Bill Ross, who got the basic idea from a strict architectural control ordinance in Claremont.

Ross suggested that it might be good to have representatives from Claremont present at the joint meeting with the Planning Commission to discuss what they had done in their city.

The Claremont ordinance requires review for all development except single-family homes. It was the type of ordinance Ross was originally pushing for.

City Attorney James Erickson told the council at a previous meeting that the Claremont ordinance might not be constitutional and that there were other ways such control could be accomplished through means which were definitely legal. The report submitted by Dalton is the result of a study of those means.

Yorba Linda Elementary School Board Studies New Educational Policy Statement

The Yorba Linda School District Board of Trustees is presently considering a new statement of educational objectives to be placed in the beginning of the board policy manual.

The statement would form the basis for all educational programs offered by the district.

Board members took no action on the policy at their last meeting but did decide that they wanted the general public to have a chance to discuss and offer suggestions on the policy, since it is their children who will be educated under it.

The board will consider a letter to send out with a copy of the proposed policy at its next meeting April 23. The letter will ask that district residents read the policy and make comments and suggestions to the district.

The proposed policy begins with a statement which reads as follows:

The Board of Trustees of the Yorba Linda School

Council Sets Hearing On Two Streets

A public hearing before the Yorba Linda City Council to consider the closing of portions of Main Street and Plumosa Street has been set for May 4.

The areas in question are the small portion of Main Street between Imperial Highway and Yorba Linda Boulevard and Plumosa Street between Imperial Highway and Lemon Street.

The major reason for closing the two streets is the problem of safety in crossing and making left turns onto Imperial Highway.

Plumosa Street would be abandoned to the Yorba Linda Library District and to the service station on the corner of Lemon and Imperial. The library has expressed an interest in using the property for extra parking.

The major consideration in the abandonment is that traffic will increase drastically as soon as Imperial Highway is widened, creating an extreme traffic hazard in the area.

District recognizes a moral and legal responsibility for educating all students in the District who are capable of learning. It recognizes that the entire person comes to school and that the school cannot ignore his health, character, and total personality development. However, it also recognizes that the school shares responsibility for the total development of the student with the home, the church, and the entire community with its various organizations and environmental conditions.

We believe that there are three basic dimensions involved in educating a student; intellectual, social and personal. The educational program, to be effective, must deal with these three aspects of the individual. We also believe within this framework that provision must be made for a balanced program in terms of the abilities and special needs of all students. Quality education should help every child prepare for a world of rapid change and unforeseeable demands in which continuing education throughout his adult life should be a normal expectation.

Following this statement is an outline presented in three sections. Under the heading of intellectual dimensions are three subheads.

These are acquiring knowledge, which includes development of the ability to think and form concepts, creative thinking, development of a willingness and an eagerness to discover new ideas, deal with novel situations, and express thoughts and feelings in original ways, and mastery of the basic skills in the use of words and numbers; communication of knowledge, which includes skill to acquire and transmit knowledge and ability to translate knowledge into effective action; and desire for knowledge, which is a positive attitude toward school and the learning process.

Social dimensions is also divided into three areas, man to man, man to state, and man to world.

Man to man includes cooperation in day to day relations, knowledge of and appreciation for other people and other races, and an understanding of the role of various family members.

Man to state includes civic rights and duties, habits and attitudes associated with responsible citizenship, understanding rights and duties of citizenship and acceptance of the responsibilities that accompany freedom, and loyalty to America and the democratic process.

Man to world includes inter-relationships of peoples and appreciation of persons belonging to social, cultural, and ethnic groups different from his own through an understanding of his own and other's cultures.

The third heading is personal dimensions which include, ethical, emotional, physical and aesthetic areas.

Under ethical is moral integrity and development of a framework for a basic life philosophy.

Emotional includes helping every child to acquire the greatest possible understanding of himself and an appreciation of his worthiness as a member of society, helping every child to achieve emotional stability which will enable him to cope with new situations, and helping every child to develop a sense of responsibility for his own behavior.

Physical includes improved physical fitness through vigorous physical activity, appreciation of physical fitness and health through a sense of participation and accomplishment, building the skills necessary for recreational activities throughout life, and good health habits and an understanding of the conditions necessary for the maintenance of physical and emotional well-being.

Aesthetic includes participation in cultural and leisure pursuits, and response to the beautiful in art or nature.

Census Takers Begin Rounds April 20

Follow-up calls on the 1970 census will begin about April 20, according to M. Roy Knauff of Yorba Linda, local district manager.

Knauff said that most of the information missing from the forms returned incompletely filled out can be obtained by telephone calls rather than personal visits.

He said that training of local census takers to do follow up work is now underway. The training sessions, conducted by crew leaders, are spread over several days and are interspersed with work periods in which the techniques are applied.

The final session will prepare the trainees for the calls they will make at homes from which no forms have been mailed back or from which incomplete forms were returned.

The training periods will cover the proper manner of interviewing householders, use of questionnaires and census definitions.

Knauff said that householders should have no trouble identifying enumerators.

Each census taker will wear a red, white and blue identification card which bears the seal of the Department of Commerce and the words "census enumerator, official credential" across its face.

It bears the census takers signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a census enumerator and has sworn to keep confidential all census information you provide.

Persons purporting to be census takers who do not have this identification card should be reported to the local police or to the census district office located at 2021 Via Burton, Anaheim.

Census takers will be further identified by the portfolio containing their supplies. The portfolio is blue and bears the legend 1970 Census. It contains supplies of report forms, maps, pencils, and other tools necessary to her work.

Budget Follows Projections So Far

As of March 31 the city of Yorba Linda had received $52,000 more than projected and spent $2,000 less than projected in its 1969-70 fiscal year budget.

The two areas where receipts are higher than anticipated so far are in the arterial highway financing program and in the engineering fees.

Expenditures for police protection are far lower than had been projected and street improvements have been higher.

These figures represent monthly cash flow only.

Two organizations have been given permission to paint house numbers on local curbs by the Yorba Linda City Council.

The Placentia-Yorba Linda Pony Colt League will paint numbers between April 7 and 25. Numbers will be painted by boys between 13 and 14 with adult supervision of each group of boys.

Cromwell Named City Ambassador

Robert Cromwell, a student at Cal State Fullerton who is going to Israel for a world publications conference in May and June representing his school, has been named official representative and goodwill ambassador from Yorba Linda during his trip.

Cromwell, nephew of Yorba Linda Councilman Whit Cromwell, and two fellow students at Cal State, will be the only three Americans ever to attend the conference.

School District Applies For Federal NDEA Funds

The Yorba Linda School District Board of Trustees has applied for federal funds under the National Defense Education Act for the purchase of instructional equipment for use in the schools.

The application is for $1,779 worth of equipment, of which half will be paid for by the federal government and half by the district.

The equipment includes overhead projectors, screens, stands for projectors, a thermofax secretary, and some 8mm projection equipment.

Superintendent Sterling Fox told board members that the district had received $500 this year under the program but that the money had come almost at the end of the year. He said that there was some doubt that any funds would be available for next year.

Don Anderson, one of the staff members who will coordinate the program, said that the application is being filed with the county department of education on the assumption that it will have a better chance for approval that way.

Fox emphasized that approval of the program by the federal government did not obligate the district to participate if the district found it did not have enough money next year.

AAUW Group Holds Meeting

The Arts/Literature section of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Branch of AAUW will meet on April 22, at 7:45 at the home of Mrs. Norman Rudie, 4892 Cartlen, Placentia. Co-chairmen for this section are Mrs. Irvin Francis and Mrs. Clifford LaRoque.

City Studies Tiny Tot Program For Summer

The Yorba Linda City Council will hear a report on the possibility of establishing a tiny tot program as part of the summer recreation program at its April 20 meeting.

Mrs. James R. Coleman wrote a letter to the council which was considered at its last meeting. She requested that if at all possible a pre-school program be offered.

City Administrator Darrell Dalton told the councilmen that the staff would be meeting with the Junior Women's Club to discuss the possibility of co-sponsoring the summer recreation program. After this meeting the staff will write a report to the council on whether it would be possible to staff such a tiny tot program.

The city instituted a recreation program for the first time last year. A total of 3,700 local children participated in the program, which cost $1,420. Fees for participation made up for all but $321 of that cost. Dalton said that yearly expenses in other cities of comparable size for summer programs run about $52,000.

Virginia Carpenter Returns From East

Miss Virginia Carpenter, reference librarian and historian of Placentia District Library, returned last week from a trip east. Hearing that a cousin, whom she had not seen for fifty years, was in New York for a short time, she decided to take an early vacation and fly back to see him. She reports a marvelous time.

Her cousin, James B. Orrick, has worked for the United Nations for many years and traveled all over the world, except back to California, said Miss Carpenter. He gave her a personal tour of the U.N., with luncheon in the restaurant and admission to one of the Committee meetings. He also took her to the opera at Lincoln Center, (Strauss' Ariadne auf Naxos; Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex; Wagner's Parsifal; and Carmina Burana) and they visited a number of museums and art galleries, and of course, the library.

A number of Mr. Orrick's brothers and sisters live on the East coast, so after a family party on Sunday, Miss Carpenter visited her cousins in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Baltimore and Virginia. She went sight-seeing in each place, concentrating on historical scenes. Miss Carpenter was taken to Annapolis, Williamsburg, Yorktown and Jamestown and across the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-tunnel which is many miles long.

A snow storm in New York on Easter Sunday added a touch of excitement, she stated, but did not prevent her from attending services at St. Bartholomew's church. On another Sunday she went to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Miss Carpenter says that while there were many clear days, the temperatures stayed in the 30's and 40's but there was rain and snow in Baltimore, also.

Miss Carpenter returned on American 747 which was delayed two hours, landing in Los Angeles at 11 p.m. instead of 9. She reports that it is large inside, the seats

Scouts Go On Boat Trip

The girls in Senior Girl Scout Troop 1120 of Placentia took a boat trip down the rapids of the Colorado River during Easter vacation. The following is a special report from the girls on that trip.

The beginning of Easter vacation marked the start of the fulfillment of a year's dreams and plans for Senior Girl Scout Troop 1120. Bright and early (7:00) Saturday morning March 21, we left Placentia to gather on the shore of Lake Meade, Arizona, the start of our dream of running the rapids of the Colorado River.

About 5:00 Arizona time, our Scouts met at Temple Bar Marina on Lake Meade and were joined by Boy Scout Explorer Posts from Placentia and Tustin. Dinner was followed by excited talk of what was in store for us on the river. Later that night our fearless leader, Mrs. Bruce Horsfall, loaded us on the bus that had come to transport the group to Yaki Point, the launching pad for the Canyon itself.

"We watched the sun rise over the canyon walls . . ."

Arriving at the dark hour of 4:00 in the morning, we watched as the sun rose over the canyon wall, revealing the snow that lay in patches along the rim of the great divide. Opening our sleepy eyes further we gulped down breakfast and readied ourselves for the supposedly five to seven hour hike down the Kaibab Trail to Phantom Ranch on the Canyon floor.

Being a hiking group we made the trip a couple of hours ahead of schedule, and lay around awaiting the tail end of the groups, splashing on the suntan lotion, and getting a look at the boats that had arrived to take us on our long awaited trek. These were the equipment of Jack Currey's Western River Expeditions, the biggest, and as we soon decided, the best outfit to have on your side of the river.

"It is another thing to be faced with the prospect of riding in them . . ."

The boats had been described to us in film a couple of times but it is another thing to be faced with them and the prospect of riding one. One looked like two large (12 ft.) oval inner tubes strapped together with a sausage of an inner tube in the middle. The floor of the boat was a group of panels that moved with the waves and the people on them, put together and appropriately called a pontoon boat.

The other rig was a group of five sausage looking inner tubes, tapered at the front, and strapped together. Food boxes, coolers and gear were then packed on these basic forms. Called the "J" Rig the last boat described was piloted by Jake Luck and the pontoon boat was skillfully manned by Dave McKay and Brent Nelson.

As we donned our

Pumpkin Suits (life jackets) and were briefed on their use, forty peoples eyes were busy scanning the boat for all the places to hold on for dear life if the need should arise. Pushing off the beach, we found ourselves ready for anything and just daring the first rapids to tear us apart!

Rounding the bend the first group spotted white water ahead so we held on, shaking with excitement as the men guided the boats through the rapid. Rolling over the foam, dipping and sloshing we finally cleared the passage, and really thought we were something. One rapid and we were experts on the matter. On the Colorado the boatmen rate the rapids on a scale from one to ten, ten being the most severe. When one of the group asked, amid the laughing, how the rapid was rated Jake brought the entire boat to a silence — it was not rated at all.

As the day continued we got the first hints of sunburn and an inkling of the beauty and challenge of the Canyon, for we found that our boatmen knew more of the river than we dreamed, and shared their knowledge with us all along the trip.

Monday, after a good nights sleep in the old sleeping bag, we loaded the boats and pushed off early, ready for anything. (Before lunch that is) Speaking of lunches, Western River Expeditions is known for the fine quality of their food. As an example, for every meal we would have meat of some type.

One morning we had ham, eggs, hashed browned potatoes and cocoa for breakfast, all out of this world! Then for dinner we would have pork chops, steak or chicken. And to beat all it was prepared by the men! (and being Scouts, we pitched in)

"On these rapids we clung on to the rafts for dear life . . ."

The main large rapids we were to conquer were Crystal Falls and Lava Falls that we hit on the first and third days out. On these we clung onto the rafts for dear life, and dripped and sputtered our way through the changing level of the rapids. Looking at the water was one thing, but none wanted to be in it! Drops in the rapid ranged from a few inches to a few feet and the waves got plenty high enough so that we were worried about one of the boatmen — as it heaved over him in the back of the boat.

As Brent put it, it was like someone yelled "shift" just before the rapid. For, at that time, everyone would pull out their ponchos and move to the rear of the boat (or, for the brave, the very front), to brave the white water. Then when calm water is reached the ponchos disappear and it is time to "shift" to the front of the boat.

Four days of sun and experience followed our first day out. These were days of sunburn and tans, water, cameras and fun.

On Thursday night things changed drastically from the usual traveling. We were just to the end of the canyon itself when the wind picked up markedly. Though not really cold, it slowed up travel and made it impossible to make our scheduled dinner destination. So, pulling up on a rocky stretch of beach, we commenced to make dinner on the boats.

"We awoke to an unnerving experience, no boats . . ."

By this time the wind was definitely up and holding down chili and salad had come to be a problem. Emily Post would have fainted to see our dinner etiquette that night! We managed to get the dishes washed and stowed and, though getting dark, we huddled down in the boats and our boatmen guided us to a sandy stretch of beach in which to camp. The speed in which a group of tired scouts gets to sleep is like watching a disappearing act in triple time.

The next morning we awoke to a rather unnerving happening, no boats! Apparently the wind during the night had carried them a couple of hundred yards down the beach and luckily two of the boatmen slept on them. Of course our boatmen remained undaunted, but we secretly wondered what would happen if they had drifted out.

As Friday was our last day out, we lounged around in the slight wind and enjoyed the sun. Docking at a lovely cove for lunch it began to dawn on the group that the trip was almost over and soon everyone would be going home.

Lunch went by like lightning and we finished the last mile or so to Temple Bar Marina in a matter of minutes. Piling out of the boats we unstrapped them, pulled their plugs and loaded the gear into waiting trucks and cars. Looking at the rafts all deflated gave a weak look to them or maybe it was a tinge of recent memory.

But as always, school beckons to return, and after the goodbyes, we drove back to Placentia, vowing to someday return to the great Colorado.

As a troop we would like to thank the adults that helped us make our dream come true, Mr. and Mrs. Al Rothman and Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schnoor, Mr. and Mrs. Bob McGuire and our friends Lana and Vivian, Mr. Harold Kaysen, Mrs. Arden Dunton, Mr. Robert Schneider and our ever so fearless leaders Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Horsfall.

Our special thanks goes to Mr. Rod Colvin for preparing us for the trip through all his fantastic information and maps. Last but not least our greatest thanks to Western River Expeditions Inc., to Jack Currey, Jake Luck, Dave McKay and Brent Nelson for making our trip down the Colorado River an unforgettable, enjoyable dream come true.

Park Development Program Nears Completion

Pavers work on Koch Park parking lot . . .

The Park Development Program is proceeding into its final stages with early completion dates anticipated.

The Kraemer Park Community Building is ready for final acceptance by Architects Latta & Lynch and the City. Work on the grounds is under way and should be completed within the month.

The construction of an addition to the McFadden Park multi-purpose building has begun and is all that remains for completion of that facility, flood lights having been installed this past week.

The Tuffree Hill Gymnasium is virtually complete with the exception of the Gymnasium floor covering which will be installed under separate contract.

Work is progressing on the two ball diamonds which should make them available for use in May. Planting has begun, the parking lot is paved and, with the installations of the lighting and tennis courts, the park will be complete.

The new growth on the wisteria vine at Koch Park coincides with the final construction at that site. Plans are being revised in order that the multi-purpose building can be constructed this summer. This construction will not preclude public use of the park which will begin in the very near future as the lawns become serviceable and playground equipment is installed.

The next park to be completed following Koch will be Parque de los Vaqueros. The irrigation and underground electric is being completed and the laying of walks is beginning. Construction of the building which will contain restrooms and storage will be started next week and should be completed shortly after the balance of work on this site.

Scheduled for completion within a few weeks of Parque de los Vaqueros is Parque del Arroyo Verde. The two restroom buildings are being completed this week and after completion of electrical and irrigation work now under way, the site will be ready for planting. Installation of a lake bed and dam has been scheduled with other projects precluding delay of the final completion.

City Council Approves Tartan Floor For Tuffree Gymnasium

The John O. Tynes Recreation Building in Tuffree Hill Park will have a Tartan floor after all following Placentia City Council acceptance of the high bid for gym flooring.

Tartan is an artificial flooring made by the 3-M Co. It is installed in thicknesses of 3/8 of an inch. The bid, submitted by Pace-Ross, amounted to $14,959.

A bid of $13,180 submitted by the Hoover Co. for a Uniturf floor was rejected because of apparent maintenance problems.

Recreation and Parks Director Dick Samp told the City Council that while cheaper, Uniturf was far more susceptible to scuffing than the Tartan floor. He also said that the Tartan floor has a protective coating while Uniturf has so far been unable to produce a satisfactory coating which would not chemically react with the flooring itself.

Samp said that the staff had consulted with athletic directors across the country by telephone and had visited some Southern California installations of the various floorings.

Samp also pointed out that their consultations showed that Uniturf had problems with seams showing, with marking and with maintenance. He felt that lowered maintenance costs would more than make up for the difference in price.

The Recreation and Parks Commission almost recommended that Tartan not be included in the bidding because of higher cost and preliminary studies which showed no apparent difference between it and the lower priced floorings.

Some commissioners did insist that Tartan be allowed to bid so it could be considered along with the other floorings.

Jaycees To Start Work On Parkette

The initial phase of construction on the Placentia Jaycees parkette at Kansas and Nebraska avenues near the new freeway will get under way Saturday, April 25, according to club president Marvin Reid. Only site clearing, leveling and rough grading will be done at this time.

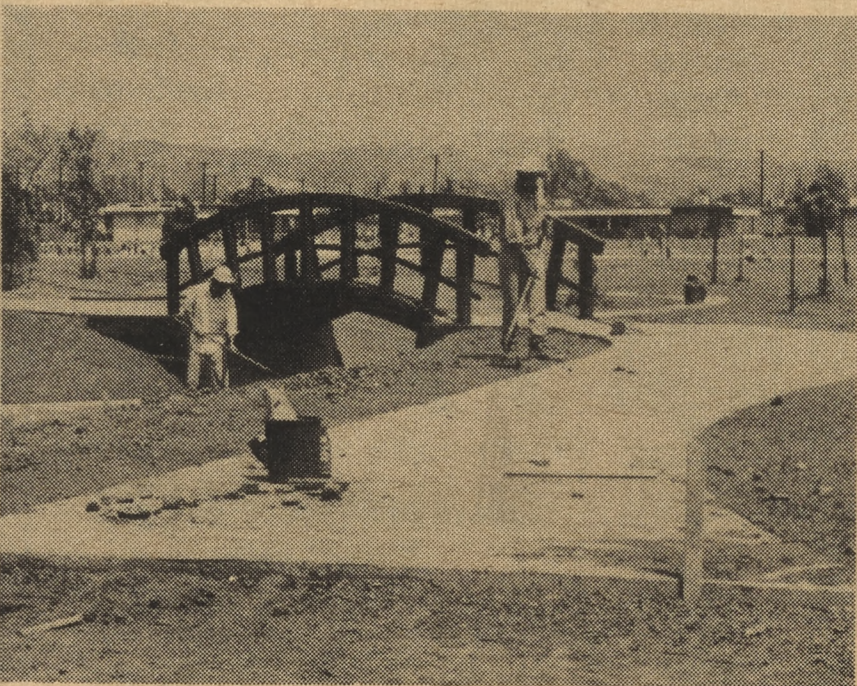

The Jaycees have received some donations of materials for the parkette but still need trees and shrubs to use during the planting phase of construction, Reid said.

He asked anyone removing trees or small shrubs from their property in the next few months to contact project chairman Lyle Hallett at 524-5932 or himself at 528-7407. He said that the Jaycees would arrange for pickup for replanting at the parkette site at a later date.

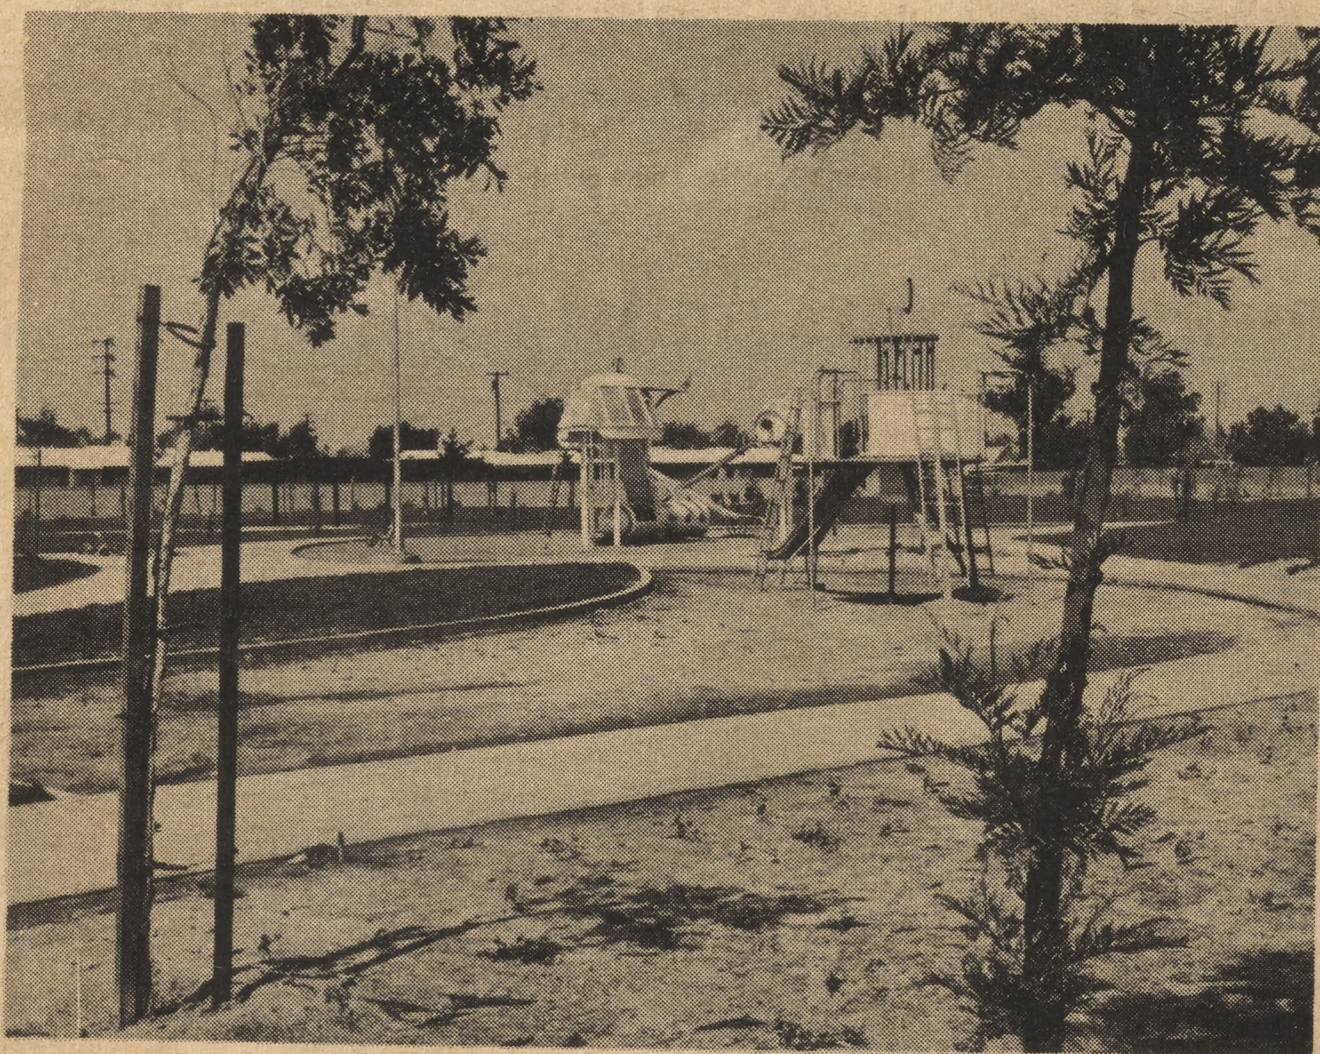

Reid said the future phases will cover sprinkler installation, planting, and construction of a play area and benches.

Backboards are up in Tuffree Park gymnasium . . .

Placentia

Contractor Harold Johnson left, of Near-Cal Corp. watches as architects Graham Latta and Donald Lynch and city building inspector Gene McDaniel conduct final inspection of the Backs Community Building in Kraemer Park. Completion of the building is expected soon with its opening scheduled for May 1.

City Council To Consider Curve In Alta Vista

The Placentia City Council will consider whether to allow a curve in Alta Vista Street just east of Kraemer Boulevard in order to allow a well supplying water to the Alta Vista Country Club to continue to exist at its next meeting.

M. D. Johnson, representing the country club, told the City Council that he needed the well in order for the club to financially survive. His presentation was made at the last council meeting. Final action was postponed for two weeks to allow time for the council to study all aspects of the issue.

Johnson said that he had to know very soon whether the well would be allowed to remain because of a contract he has with the owner of the property across the street.

In return for 18 feet of the man's property in order to put the curve in the street, Johnson had agreed to supply irrigation water to the groves. To do that he must put in 400 feet of pipe on the south side of Alta Vista.

The major problem is that the well is just beyond the present roadway. When the road is widened the well will be exactly on the edge of the street if most of the shed over it is cut off. Eight feet of sidewalk is needed so the street would have to be curved to provide that eight feet.

Johnson said that it is virtually impossible to relocate the well because of the possibility that it could collapse or the possibility that there would be no water in other locations.

Atwood Area Questions Suit

The residents of Atwood are upset and confused by the legal action which stopped the proceedings by Placentia to annex the 539 acre area virtually at its moment of completion.

Mrs. Esther Gonzales, who works in the Atwood Community Center, told the City Council at its last meeting that the people in the area are concerned about the suit and want to know what the city is doing about it.

Ralph Echave of Brea, speaking for the Atwood people at their request, told the council that the residents of the community sent their thanks to a city with a heart. "Placentia is not just desirous of obtaining the property just for the money but wants to bring into the city long time area residents and help them keep their community intact."

Echave said that it is disturbing to hear from the city to the south (Anaheim) "which has no desire for the welfare of the people."

"The people in the community don't quite understand the legalities. They have performed the task. A majority of the property owners have approved the annexation. The protest hearings and elections were held according to law. They want to know, what now?"

Echave also brought up the fact that as soon as annexation proceedings began the county stopped spending money in the area. He said that until the litigation is over it is still in the county.

Councilmen instructed the staff to contact the county and try to pry some of the money loose that they should be spending in the area, especially on the improvement of Orange-thorpe Avenue.

Councilman Richard Demmer called Echave's speech "one of the finest talks I have ever heard." He and the council pledged to do everything possible to carry the suit "to the highest court in the land" if necessary to win approval of the annexation.

Mayor Jack Gomez said of the Anaheim City Council, "I can't imagine that they are aware of the injustice they are causing. We will take any kind of action we can to make them aware of this injustice."

Councilmen commented that the suit would not make much difference in the daily operations of either Anaheim or Placentia but that it did make a big difference in Atwood where essential services promised to the people are being held up by litigation.

City departments are ready to provide fire, police, public works and any other necessary services as soon as the annexation is certified by the Secretary of State in Sacramento. This cannot be done until the litigation is dropped.

The suit was filed four days before the March 24 election in which the voters approved the annexation by a 78 to 45 vote. Councilmen canvassed the election and certified the results so the documents will be ready for the Secretary of State as soon as litigation is over.

A hearing on the suit is scheduled for May 27 in Section 2 of the Superior Court in Santa Ana.

Police Arrest Local Man On Marijuana Charge

James Pineda of 1726 Sierra Bonita, reported an attempted burglary at his home on April 12.

When police arrived, the suspect, Johnny Joseph Reza, 20, was apprehended in the Pineda garage. Police reports said that he explained that his engagement to Linda Pineda had been broken, and he was trying to get the engagement ring from her.

As the suspect was searched for weapons, police reported that he appeared under the influence of some unknown drug, and said that he allegedly had marijuana in his possession.

According to the police reports, Pineda corroborated the suspect's story of the broken engagement, but Reza was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana, and is being held in Orange County jail to await arraignment.

Nelson Returns From East

Tom Nelson, planning director for the City of Placentia returned to his desk Friday after a five day stay in New York City. Nelson attended the American Society of Planning Officials Conventions.

According to Nelson there is a tremendous amount to be learned about future planning, especially in the urban areas.

Nelson said it is staggering to the mind to see the problems the larger cities have, which we in California and particularly in Placentia, do not have to contend.

Nelson noted, also, that we are far advanced in Orange County, perhaps because of the new land, while the other cities have the older lands and buildings to consider.

A survey was made throughout the United States recently, and 6 points were projected as reasons for cities being the "least blighted"

Placentia has been working in the six areas with great success over the past few years, and the 6 are; 1, very restricted sign ordinances; 2, very heavy requirements on landscaping; 3, large residential lots; 4, no high rise; 5, no freeways through the city, and 6, strict architectural design preferably of Spanish motif, and no heavy industry in residential area. Santa Barbara rated as the least blighted city in the United States.

In New York's plan it was noted by Nelson there are many "pocket parks".

Aside from the meetings, Nelson found time "to enjoy" the high prices in New York, and brought back with him several flamboyant neckties, as the new fashion trend for men indicates.

Fire Department Answers Calls

Monday April 6, was a busy day for the Placentia Fire Department. The morning was quiet but shortly after noon, an engine company was called to a grass fire at the corner of Bastanchury and Kraemer. Fire personnel quickly extinguished the fire in the dry grass. There was a false alarm which called them to 160 La Jolla Road.

Later in the afternoon, for the second time this week, firemen extinguished a fire in a trash dumpster.

The day ended with two rescue calls.

When they arrived at 907 S. Arnold, on April 4, firemen found a half ton pick-up truck ablaze. The fire was quickly extinguished and first aid was administered to the owner of the vehicle who was burned on the hands and legs as he tried to extinguish the fire himself. Before firemen left, he had been taken to a local hospital in a private car for further treatment.

On April 5, firemen extinguished a blaze in the bedroom of a home at 249 Laurelwood AVE. An electric blanket had caused the fire but the home owner had managed to remove it before firemen arrived. Damage was limited to the bedding and the carpeting of the room.

Later that same day, firemen were called to stand by fallen power lines caused by an automobile accident at the corner of La Jolla Road and Avenida de Pio Pico. Firemen stood by until Southern California Edison arrived to take charge.

When they responded to a call at 2137 No. Kraemer Blvd., where a child was reported suffering from convulsions, firemen found that the young victim had been taken to be treated by his family doctor.

Police Arrest Three

When Placentia Police heard a broadcast from the Fullerton Police radio at 3:20 on Friday, April 11, describing a stolen vehicle, they observed a vehicle of the same description traveling east on La Jolla Road.

They stopped the car near the intersection of La Jolla Road and Cypress Street at 3:24, and held the driver and his passengers until the Fullerton Police arrived.

The driver of the car was Larry Perez, 20, of 201 Main St., Placentia. His passengers were Maureen Mary Terrones, 19 and Jack Jaime Terrones, 21, both of 201 W. Wilshire, Fullerton.

All of the suspects were placed under arrest, and the vehicle impounded, according to the police report.

More VIP Awards Given

Two more Very Important Placentians scrolls were presented at last week's City Council meeting to two organizations left out of the original presentations a few months ago.

The two groups receiving plaques were the North Placentia Homeowners Association and the Bob-Ettes of Placentia. Accepting the plaque for the Bob-Ettes was their first year president Curtis Cook. In the original presentations Councilman Richard Demmer, in reading the citations to the various groups honored, had asked that those left out through oversight or other reason contact the city if they felt they deserved a plaque.

The Chamber of Commerce had also asked the council why they did not get a plaque. Councilmen felt that they were performing their job and should not be honored for doing what the city was paying them to do.

These two foot square patches of white paint have been placed at about one-half mile intervals throughout the city of Placentia to help in drawing accurate maps of the city. Orange County is presently taking aerial photos of the area which will be used as the basis for the maps.

Ground Controls For Mapping Established

Residents of Placentia have been commenting and puzzling over the large painted squares which have appeared at various locations throughout the city.

According to Lee Leavitt, acting public works director, the marks are part of a control system being used in conjunction with a county aerial mapping program to establish an accurate topographical map of the city.

The marks represent both horizontal and vertical control work being done by James Nachazel, an engineer, at a cost of $2,500, including $400 for the Atwood area.

The county had informed the council at its March 16 meeting that it was planning to fly the county taking aerial photos beginning

April 1. The controls now painted on the ground will make aerial photos purchased from the county much more valuable to the city.

The Yorba Linda City Council was approached on April 6 by Nachazel with a proposal to install the ground controls in that city also since he was then doing the work in Placentia. The council there decided that it was not necessary to do the work at that time and they would wait and see which areas they wanted done later.

The controls are being painted at one-half mile intervals throughout Placentia. This will allow contours to be plotted on a map at five foot intervals, giving an extremely accurate map.

City Parks Dedicated By Council Resolution

A resolution dedicating all five new parks and four new recreation facilities has been approved by the Placentia City Council.

Although the parks are not yet ready for public use the council wanted them officially dedicated before the election so that the names of Vic Michel and Mayor Jack Gomez would appear on the bronze plaques to be erected on each park site.

Michel is stepping down from the council after ten years of service. He has been deeply involved in the park development program since its beginning several years ago.

The parks dedicated were Tuffree Hill, McFadden, Koch, Parque del Arroyo Verde, and Parque de los Vaqueros.

Dedicated buildings were the Backs Community Building in Kraemer Park, the Tynes Recreation Center in Tuffree Hill Park, the Whitten Recreation Center in McFadden Park and the Florence Robinson Showmobile.

All parks and buildings will be subject to a formal dedication program when they become ready for public use in the next few months.

Fire Starts In Kitchen

Two Placentia fire companies responded to a reported structural fire on April 2 at 438 Ponce Ave.

Upon arrival firemen found that an overheated pan on the stove had started a fire in the kitchen.

Curtains and the surrounding area was ablaze. After the fire was extinguished firemen used a smoke ejector to clear the house of smoke.

Fire Chief Jim Sims commended 14-year-old Sherry Deacon for her quick action in averting what could have been a major disaster.

Trees are beginning to grow in George J. Koch Park now that most of the planting there has been completed by the contractors. The wisteria vine on the frame on the background is also beginning to grow again according to Dick Samp, recreation and parks director.

Ballet Classes Set Speed Limit On Melrose Lowered

The Placentia Parks and Recreation Department announces a new six week session of youth ballet classes scheduled to begin the week of April 20.

Registration fee for the course is $5.00 for Placentia residents and $8.00 for non-residents. Classes will be held at Morse School and at the Kraemer Park Clubhouse.

The schedule will be as follows: Tuesday, Beginner — 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. Intermediate — 4:15 to 5:00 p.m. Advanced 5:00 to 5:45 p.m. Wednesday, Beginner — 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. Pre-school rhythms — 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. Intermediate and 7 year olds — 4:30 to 5:15 p.m. Thursday, Advanced — 4:30 to 5:15 p.m.

Pre-registration is being now accepted at the Parks and Recreation Office at 117 N. Main St. Telephone 528-1146.

Speed Limit On Melrose Lowered

An ordinance lowering the speed limit on Melrose Street between Orange-thrope Avenue and the south city limits to 15 miles per hour has been approved by the Placentia City Council.

The ordinance was introduced because of the large amount of truck traffic on that street caused by the installation of a truck terminal in Anaheim south of the city limits.

Lee Leavitt, acting director of public works, told the council that the Traffic Committee felt that the reduced limit would ensure greater safety in the areas adjacent to McFadden School and McFadden Park.

He said that the committee also hoped that the lower limit would tend to discourage truck traffic along the street after a period of time enforcing the new limit.

Being an urgency ordinance the new limit took effect as soon as the signs were posted on the street.

Bid Awarded For Street Construction

John W. Tiedemann Co. has been awarded the bid for street improvements at Arroyo Verde Park at a cost of $8,289.27, well below the engineer's estimate.

The project is scheduled to start within 10 days of the notification of the contractor of acceptance of his bid and should take about 40 days to complete.

Widening of the bridge over the flood control channel is not included in the project because the concrete box is already at its ultimate width on that side of the street. The barrier on that side of the street will be moved to the edge of that box providing two lanes of traffic in that area.

Auditor Chosen

The Placentia City Council will approve an agreement appointing Binder, Mestyaek, Johnson and Co. as city auditors for the fiscal year 1969-70.

The city has a regular auditor but every few years goes to an independent auditor to provide another safeguard against problems in the city finances.

The council agreed to hire the firm at its last meeting but put over actual approval of the agreement for two weeks for attorney approval of the terms of the agreement.

Accident Injures Driver

Donald Steven Castillo, 19 of 2021 West St., Fullerton, received minor injuries, as he lost control of the Dune Buggy he was driving on Saturday April 11.

According to police reports, the driver stated, that his steering mechanism failed as he negotiated a right turn from Bradford to Anned Drive. The vehicle struck a brick wall.

Castillo's passengers, Michael Vreeland, 17, of 1820 Kingston, Placentia, and Alfred Veramonties, 18, of 17921 Orangethorp, Atwood, were not injured.

Mr. Castillo was treated at Orange County Medical Center, and released.

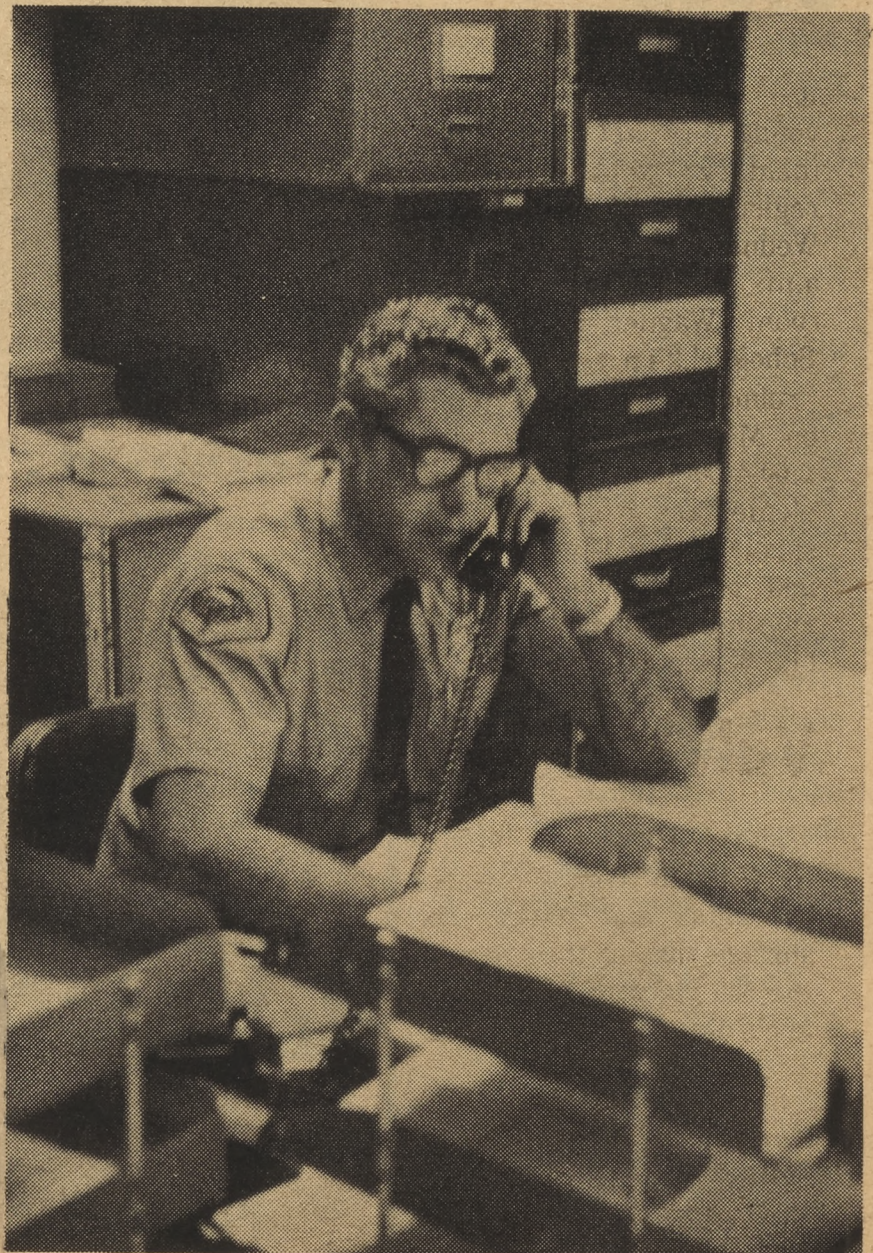

Captain Ken Mosley Takes On New Duties

Fire Captain Ken Mosley has a new responsibility with the Placentia Fire Department. Besides compiling statistics, other administrative duties will be handled by Captain Mosley.

He will study, evaluate and make recommendations of processes and procedures and developments, as they relate to the Department's requirements for meeting the standards of the Grading Bureau.

This announcement was made this week by Fire Chief Jim Sims.

Captain Kenneth Mosley

Chamber Of Commerce Meets

The Placentia Chamber of Commerce is holding their regular monthly board of directors meeting today at noon at the Alta Vista Country Club.

Highlight of the meeting will be the introduction of the nine Miss Placentia contestants. Other items on the agenda include a review of the by-laws, the progress of the membership drive, consideration of applications for membership and other regular business.

The meeting includes a no host luncheon served by the country club.

Firemen Find Black Widows

When firemen attacked a grass fire in the area of Palm Drive and Tuffree Blvd. on April 6, they were confronted with an unusual surprise, hundreds of spiders. The grass fire had reached the root area of a giant palm tree, and as the force of the water disturbed their home, out rushed myriads of garden varieties and more lethal black widow spiders. Protective clothing, worn by the firemen, prevented bites from the escaping insects.

City Officials Go To Luncheon

City Administrator Edwin Powell and Assistant Frederick Lamb, accompanied by Miss Ellen Janice Covey, attended the City managers luncheon Thursday at the Ranch House in Seal Beach.

Miss Covey has been an interim employee for the city since last July, and will be graduating from Cal State Fullerton in June, where she has been majoring in business administration.

Chief speaker for the meeting was Richard E. Aubrey, of the Bedford Post Associates, Inc. of Los Angeles. The theme of his address was the "Use of Common Sense in Personnel Management."

Kindergarten Registration Now Open

A kindergarten "round-up" has been set for youngsters who will be eligible to attend kindergarten in the fall of 1970 during Public Schools' Week, April 20-24.

Superintendent Murrell Miller stressed that youngsters who are five or who will have reached their fifth birthday by December 2, 1970, are eligible for kindergarten in September. He urged parents to register their youngsters anytime during the regular school day.

A special welcome awaits parents of kindergarten youngsters at Morse Elementary School, where registration will take place Wednesday, April 22 at 9:30 a.m. in the multipurpose room. Wagner Elementary School's kindergarten "round-up" will take place on Monday, April 20 from 1:00-4:00 p.m. At all other elementary schools no special times have been set and parents can come in anytime between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

Valves Stolen

Sixty irrigation valves were taken from the water hydrants and from the storage shed at the grove in the 600 block of S. Melrose, according to police reports.

Rancher Melvin L. Miller of 1800 Ladera Vista, Fullerton, who owns the grove, reported the theft to the Placentia Police on April 11.

160 Apply For Jobs As Firemen In Placentia

Every little chap at some time or other wants to be a fireman. Sometimes that desire carries through to a more mature age, as evidenced by 160 young men who have filed applications for fireman in Placentia.

It is understood that one of the main reasons given for the applications in Placentia are the high standards of the department, as well as the pleasant surroundings and living conditions. Some men, who have served on other city fire departments, seek to upgrade their working conditions, it is understood.

Social Science Courses Available At Valencia

Students at Valencia High School are choosing from a wide variety of social science courses this week as they pre-register for classes they will take next year.

Juniors and seniors have a choice of 10 electives, four of them new next year. The new courses included anthropology, sociology, American minorities and California history. Other electives are contemporary affairs, research and analysis, sociology of the Mexican-American, mass media in modern society, social science research (independent study) and social science aide.

Each course, with a list of objectives drawn up and content established by a member of the social science faculty, has the approval of the district board of education.

None of the courses is required for graduation, according to Marv Briggs, chairman of the department. "The purpose of the courses is to expand the student's knowledge and critical thinking skills in vital areas and allow students to work in areas of their greatest interest," he said.

Only three years of social science courses are required for graduation in the four-year high school curriculum.

Freshmen normally take one year of world history, sophomores one year of United States history and juniors semester courses in civics and economics. Advanced freshmen and sophomores may take required courses a year earlier if they meet their requirements in summer school, according to Briggs.

Social science faculty members are currently working on plans to revamp the entire required curriculum, perhaps replacing the year courses with more semester courses, Briggs noted.

The new electives for next year will be offered only if enough students sign up to make class size.

Schools To Hold Open Houses

Public schools week to be held from April 20 to April 24 will feature special events at all Placentia schools, according to district Superintendent Murrell M. Miller.

Miller said that parents are cordially invited to visit their schools throughout the week. He asked that parents check with the principal's office first so they can find out information about their child's teacher and classes.

The first open houses will be held at the following schools: April 21, Brookhaven 7:30 to 9 p.m.; Glenknoll, 7:30 to 9 p.m.; McFadden, 7 to 9 p.m. art show; Morse, 7 to 8:30 p.m.; Sierra Vista, 7 to 10 p.m.; Van Buren, 2 to 9:30 p.m., a book sale featured; Wagner, 7 to 8:30 p.m. science fair. Ruby Drive School will hold an open house April 20 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. which will include a PTA meeting.

Chris Roberts To Represent Valencia At Girls State

Chris Roberts, a junior at Valencia High School, has been selected to represent her school at the 27th annual California Girl's State.

Sponsored by the American Legion's Women's Auxiliary and held at the University of California at Davis, the session runs from June 6 through June 14 and is designed to teach girls the mechanics and workings of American government.

Girls from high schools throughout the state will live together in college dorms which are divided into "cities." The participants will elect "city officials", such as mayor, to aid in bringing them closer to the governing process.

Delegates were chosen by the faculty members of

Ecology Group Plants Grass

Calling on the help of the entire student body, Ecology in Action members at El Dorado High School are replanting their theatre area.

Ecology activists developed the project under the direction and leadership of Chris Brombach, Steve Buchmann, Jeff Cochran, Maryon Phraner, and Gary Scudder, the coordinating committee and Ken Parker, advisor and science teacher at EDHS.

Ideas for replanting the lawn began when it became known that it would be several years before the district had sufficient funds for building an outdoor amphitheatre as previously planned.

According to Scudder, "The place looked really ugly. People were wearing a path through the lawn and killing it. So they just stopped watering it."

Coordinating committee members are not sure just who came up with the idea of the project first, but agree that it was something that needed to be done.

Buchmann commented, "We did it for both aesthetic and ecological reasons. We were improving the landscaping, and by planting the grass we are also helping recycle the air."

Work on the area began last Wednesday, when the dirt was watered down. Then almost 50 enthusiastic volunteers, many of whom were not Ecology in Action members, descended on the slope with shovels, pickaxes, cultivators, and rakes. Over the six periods of the day, various students came to donate their time and labor.

With the district providing materials, the activists raked the ground, removed rocks, and dragged it with baseball field equipment. Then they seeded it with a type of blue grass, and spread on nitrohumus.

After three days of work, they rolled and watered. "We'll be able to see the grass in 3 or 4 days, and the lawn will be ready for the first mowing in about a month," explains Scudder. "We're really glad so many people came out and helped."

Why did they do it? Brombach acts as spokesman. "We want to let people know that we are around, and doing something constructive. But more important, we want to let them know that ecology begins here and now."

Other student activists programs include speaking at local elementary schools, picking up trash, and collecting aluminum cans to return to the manufacturers.

Emily Van Verst Retires From School

The door will be closed June 11, 1970 and will culminate 23 years of teaching in the Placentia Unified School District by Emily Van Verst. Mrs. Van Verst joined the staff of the Placentia District as teacher of the 3rd grade in 1947 and has continuously taught on that grade level. Many local men and women of the District remember her as a teacher with discipline as well as kindly consideration.

Mrs. Van Verst was with the Anaheim schools for 8 years and 1½ years at Magnolia before coming to Placentia. In commenting on her long years of service Mrs. Van Verst said that she has thoroughly enjoyed it, especially the people with whom she has been associated, and most particularly the many young people, who always proved an incentive to go forward, year after year.

Retiring at the same time is Aubrey Van Verst, her husband, and together they plan to spend sometime at their cabin in Yucca Valley, as well as go north for the salmon fishing season. Van Verst has been with Douglas company.

"We have a trailer," stated Mrs. Van Verst, "and we will travel the highways and seek out the byways for our leisure enjoyment."

To an educator of proven ability, "Via con Dios."

Sierra Vista PTA Meets

The Sierra Vista School PTA's annual spring social will be held in conjunction with public schools open house on April 21 from 6:45 to 8:30 p.m. in the school multi-purpose room.

Included in the social will be a sale of cake, pie, coffee and punch. A silent cake auction will also be held. The PTA is requesting donations of pies and cakes for the sale.

School rooms will be open so parents can see student accomplishments. Teachers will be available to answer questions.

Pre-registration for children who will be five before December 2, and entering kindergarten in September will be held April 22 at 9:00 A.M. in the Multi-Purpose Room. According to Duane Mendell, principal, this registration is important since it could affect teacher assignment for 1970-71 school year. For those unable to attend this meeting, Mrs. Ruth Potvin, School Secretary, will be available during the evening on April 21 to take registrations.

New Officers for the 1970-71 school year are Mrs. James Ash, President, Mrs. Ted Thompson, 1st Vice President, Mrs. Roger Miller, 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Bruce Richardson, 3rd Vice President, Mrs. Richard Reimers, Recording Secretary, Mrs. William Waterworth, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Ivan Cranston, Treasurer, Mrs. Delvin Specker, Auditor, and Mrs. Walter Fredrickson, Historian.

Rhett Bray of Valencia is seen winning the 440 yard dash against Los Amigos. Bray, a senior, has posted top items in the hurdle events and is a member of the relay team in addition to his long jump chores.

Valencia Batmen To Face Saddleback Roadrunners

The Tigers begin second round action in the Orange League hosting Saddleback tomorrow at 3:15. A loss to the Roadrunners would dim the chances for the team to finish in the first division.

In the first round of Orange League play the team has a 2-4 record.

Hopefully top thrower for the team Terry Walling will be at the mound against the visitors. He has been sick and missed last Friday's starting assignment against Brea.

Coach Dick Enright's team lost its 4th straight game Friday to Brea Olinda 7-3.

Frank Rangel started and pitched two strong innings but folded in the 3rd allowing five straight walks and a single for 3 runs. Dane Ilertson came in to finish out the game for the home team.

In the third inning the Tigers scored 3 runs; Rangel doubled, Brea committed a couple of errors and senior Mike Bays singled to make the score 4-3.

The Tigers only got one less hit than Brea but were not able to put together a good rally.

The top hitters for the team are Mike Bays, slamming the ball for a .412 average. Ace Ellioff is swinging .266 and Mark Allen is right at .250.

Last Tuesday the Tigers traveled to Katella and lost 7-3.

Ilertson was the victim of all the runs. He was pulled in the fifth inning in favor of Rangel, who gave up two hits and struck out 3 men. In the seventh inning Ilertson hit a home run with Tony Vitale on base preventing the teams second shutout loss.

In the lineup will be Don Shaffer c; Raul Davis 2b; Rangel or Ilertson 3b; Bays ss; Vitale 1f; Allen cf; and Drake Sheetz rf.

Tuesday afternoon the team met Sonora at 3:15. Results were not available at press time.

Tiger Trackmen Face Katella In Crucial Orange League Contest

In the big meet of the year Coach Mike Cummins track team faces the Katella Knights in Bradford Stadium at 3:15 today.

The meet should be pretty even. On paper both teams match up about the same according to Cummins.

The best sprinter for the Tigers is Sophomore Dave Fugiami who runs both the 100 and 220 yd. dash. Half milers for the club are sophomore Jaime Vega and Freshman Tony Morrocco. Milers are Steve McCloon and Freshman Ruben Rojas. Sophomore Mike Boaz is the best distance runner on the team. He has run the two mile in a 10.16. Other 2 milers are Ron Rambo, Manuel Raya and Alex Lopez.

Running the hurdles for the team is Rhett Bray, who is among the best in the Orange League. Mark Von Iderstein and Ken Stone join him.

In the field events, Coach Cummins has much to talk about with Junior Ron Mooers one of the best pole vaulters in the County clearing 13-5. Along with him pole vaulting are Sophomores Jim Collins and Dave Rogers.

Long jumpers are Mitch Glowin 20'11½ and Fugiami 20'5. High jumpers are Steve McCloon and Rhett Bray; both have cleared 5'10.

Sophomore Alex Covarrubias is the best discus thrower in the league with a mark of 144'1. Jerry Bell has thrown 140' and John Ast 135'.

Coach Cummins expects some of the players to break loose with outstanding performances against Katella.

The Orange League record for track is 3-1 with victories over El Dorado, Saddleback and Los Amigos. The only loss was to Los Alamitos.

The Bee track team has won two and lost two beating El Dorado and Los Amigos. Top Sprinter is Freshman Paul Adams. Eric Frantz, Rick Swobe, and Paul Thurmond are pole vaulters. B shot putter and discus thrower is Steve Brown.

The Cee track team is in a three way tie for 1st place with Los Amigos and Los Alamitos losing to Los Amigos.

Clark Johnson is the top C 660 runner in the league. Andy Castro and Manuel Rava run the 1320. Charley Pernice is the top sprinter. Mike Stabile has long jumped 19'11" in league.

Katella Defeats Hawks In Orange League Meet

El Dorado High School's Varsity Track team lost its second league meet to Katella last Thursday, 81-46.

Yesterday the Hawks met Brea-Olinda in a crucial meet which could determine second place for the Hawks. Results were not available at press time.

Meeting Brea on Wednesday gave the Cindermen an extra day to get ready for the Laguna Beach Invitational. El Dorado will try to defend their Bee championship as all their Varsity with Bee exponents will drop down to Bees, and all the good Cees will move up.

Placing first in Varsity at last weeks dual meet were: Bobby Johns, in the 880 with a 2:04.0; Steve Pugh in the 440 with a 50.3; and Sam Rossi with a school record toss in the shot put of 53-8½.

Although the Varsity and Bees lost, the Cees won their first league meet, 49-46.

It was the field events that helped the Cees, as Cee pole vaulters and shot putters took first, second, and third, outscoring Katella 18-0. The high jumpers got first and second and Chris Jones placed second in the long jump. Craig Moon and Jones led the team with a total of eight points apiece.

El Dorado's Bees had their troubles as Katella romped 74-28. Claude Bailey led the Bees with nine points.

Recently the Los Angeles Times put out the top marks in Orange County varsity track and field. Three EDHS Cindermen made the listings. They were Steve Pugh, 48.9 in the 440; Dennis White, 1:57.5 in the 880; and Sam Rossi 53-8½ in the shot put.

Hawk Cee Swimmers Win Meet

At the CIF Southern Section swimming finals, held at the Belmont Plaza Olympic Pool in Long Beach on Friday, March 20, El Dorado swimmers took third place in competition with all Cee teams from high schools in the CIF Southern Section.

In the first event of the evening, the Hawk swimmers made a comeback from fourth to upset preliminary winner Newport Beach, in the Cee 200 yard medly relay.

Forming both relay teams were freshman Mike Moore, and sophomores Dan Kenney, Mike Weigan, and Steve Bond.

In the last event of the evening heavily rated Corona del Mar edged the Hawks in the Cee 200 yard freestyle relay, but EDHS still got second place medals.

With just the two events the Hawks were able to captured third in Cee's CIF. All the schools they competed against were "large schools" having over 2,000 students.

Working with their coaches Walter Druff and Rick Davis these boys have helped El Dorado achieve fame in swimming. In league EDHS took third place in the Varsity with only one senior. Coach Druff stated, "I can't wait until next year when my underclassmen really start swimming."

VHS Golfers Defeat Brea For Ninth Win

This coming Tuesday the Tiger golfers travel to Mile Square Golf course for a match against Los Amigos high school.

"This is by far the best golf team Valencia has ever had," commented Coach Hal Polley about his club. The Tigers had just beaten Brea Olinda 405-423 at Western Hills Golf Course for their ninth victory in a row.

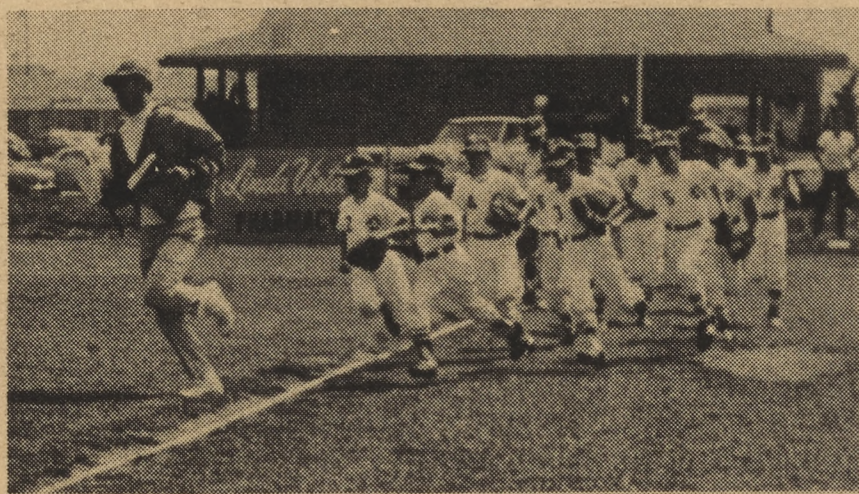

The Tigers met Orange League leader Los Alamitos Monday and needed a win to move into first place with the Griffins. Los Al defeated the Tigers the first time the teams met.

Twenty-five players are out for golf this year making it the school's largest turnout ever. Only three players are seniors but they are good ones. Among those are Captain Jim Bradley, Bruce Bilton and Steve Honkins.

Underclassmen on the Varsity squad include Greg Bilton, Mike Orth, Bob Kalmbach and John Sheldon.

Tomorrow the Valencia Junior Varsity golf team tees off against Brea for the championship at Western Hills.

Last Friday the Bengals beat Brea 14½ to 13½. "The players were not mentally ready or prepared for this game," said Brittingham.

Overall the team record is 5-6.

Cal State Reorganizes College Library

With patronage approaching the half million mark each year, the California State College, Fullerton Library has been reorganized formally into three departments which will coordinate nine areas of operation.

Named to chair the departments of reader services, bibliographic services and processing services by Dr. Bernad L. Hyink, vice president for academic affairs, are Miss Barbara E. Davis, of Placentia; Mrs. Doris H. Banks and Mrs. Herta D. Fischer of Fullerton, respectively.

The terms of Miss Davis, who joined the Library in 1960, and Mrs. Banks become effective in September and are for three years. Mrs. Fischer's term is effective immediately and extends for one year.

Reorganization came in response to the "ever broadening span of service," according to College Librarian Ernest W. Toy Jr., who pointed out that there are now approximately 200 persons employed in the Library to handle increased requests for service and acquisition of new materials.

Size of the library's holdings now is at a quarter of a million—a figure which does not include such materials as unbound periodicals, microforms, documents, curriculum materials, some textbooks and maps. Approximately 56,000 new materials will be acquired in this fiscal year, Toy said. Many of the new acquisitions will be periodicals which currently number more than 4,000 titles as compared with only 200 a decade ago.

Other areas affected by the increase in patronage are the circulation and reference desks. Checkouts last year totaled nearly 230,000 and Toy expects circulation figures this year to hit a quarter of a million.

The reference desk, which was first set up as a separate area in 1963, researched nearly 40,000 questions during the 1968-69 fiscal year and during the first six months of the current fiscal year, answered 24,000 requests. In 1964-65, the desk handled only 14,000 research questions.

Circulation, the periodical collection and reference desk are areas that will fall under the reader services department which also will handle the record tape library and documents.

Bibliographic services department will handle special collections, acquisitions and the bibliography section which analyzes the library's holdings and advises in all matters involving purchase of new materials.

Cataloging and all other physical preparation of materials prior to their placement on shelves will be done in the processing services department.

Miss Davis, Mrs. Banks and Mrs. Fischer are three of the 27 professional librarians employed by the college. There are 52 clerical personnel and the remaining 120 persons are CSCF students working their way through school.

Miss Davis earned her master's degree at Carnegie Library School. She holds bachelor's degrees from Carnegie Institute of Technology and University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Banks came to CSCF after being chief librarian at Hughes Aircraft Co., Fullerton, for 10 years. She earned her bachelor's degree at State University of New York, Geneseo, and holds a master's degree in library science from Syracuse University and another in public administration from University of Southern California.

Mrs. Fischer was a science librarian assigned to the Ghana Academy of Sciences and Kenya Polytechnic Library with UNESCO in Paris for three years before coming to CSCF. She earned a master's degree in library science from University of Denver and holds two bachelor's degrees from University of Berlin.

Masters Exchange Program Underway

Five experienced teachers and a like number of graduate students have traded places as part of a unique master's degree program in biology at California State College, Fullerton.

Teachers who started the program last September are Stanley Cowen of Garden Grove and Mrs. Hazel Wersky of Anaheim, both of whom are on the faculty at Doig Intermediate School, Garden Grove; Thomas McAdam of Huntington Beach, Fountain Valley High School; Robert Patterson of Orange, Foothill High School, Santa Ana; and Robert Reid of Anaheim, Western High School, Anaheim.

Changing places with them during the current year are five graduate students with internship credentials issued by the State Board of Education.

They are Robert Azen of Yorba Linda, James Hoeber of Whittier, Arlin Penner of La Habra, INNGRID Kazakevicius of Fullerton and Marvin Sherrill of Lakewood.

Supported by a $74,543 National Science Foundation grant, the program is the only one of its kind in the nation. It is directed by Dr. George C. Turner, chairman of the science and mathematics education department.

"Our aims," Turner explained, "include raising the level of secondary school biology instruction and expanding the supply of qualified teachers.

"Principal features which make it possible for both teachers and graduate students to earn master's degrees without undue financial hardship," he added, "are the NSF backing and the personnel exchange worked out with each participating school district."

For two years, the teachers are being released from one-half of their teaching duties so they can take college coursework necessary for the master's degree in biology. Their salaries continue, and in addition they are entitled to NSF support for the coming summer session at CSCF with allowances for dependents, travel, books and registration fees.

Newly named as interns for 1970-71 are Cecil R. Benjamin of The Virgin Islands, Steven Esser of Santa Ana, John Pirkle and Lee Starke, both of Fullerton, and Robert Whitmore of Anaheim.

Since the interns are full-time students, their involvement in the program extends for only 15 months, including the summer sessions immediately preceding and following the internship.

Besides earning academic credits needed for the M.A. in biology and the standard secondary teaching credential, the students are entitled to stipends covering such items as living expenses, dependents, travel, books and registration fees.

As was the case with the five teachers, the students all were selected by a screening committee made up of representatives from Turner's department, the biological science department and the CSCF School of Education.

The program has many advantages, according to Turner, who singled out these examples:

—The teachers upgrade their biological knowledge without interrupting their schedule for tenure, sabbaticals and other benefits.

Biology Seminar Set at FJC

The Eighth Annual Life Sciences Symposium sponsored by the Fullerton Junior College Division of Life Sciences and the National Defense Education Act Administration has been scheduled for Saturday, April 18, on the college campus.

Titled "Human Ecology - Part II," the day-long symposium will feature talks by six outstanding speakers.

The speakers and their topics include Dr. Donald W. Aitken, Astrophysicist at Stanford University and Scientific Coordinator of the John Muir Institute for Environmental Studies, speaking on the topic "Ecoviolence Without Guilt: A Science Without Questions;" Robert B. Sperling, Administrative Services Officer of the Statewide Air Pollution Research Center at the University of California at Riverside, speaking on the topic "Some Blue Sky Theories About Air Pollution;" and Mrs. Elizabeth Cuadra, Senior Research and Consulting Specialist with the Wyle Laboratories in El Segundo and a member of the Assembly Sciences and Technology Advisory Council of the State of California, speaking on the topic "Noise the Insidious Stressor: Who Needs It?"

Other speakers are Dr. Larry E. Ruff, Assistant Professor of Economics at the University of California at San Diego, speaking on the topic "Technology of Institutions: Which is the True Challenge;" Dr. Norman Brooks, Professor of Civil Engineering and Head of Environmental Engineering at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, speaking on the subject "Controlling Ocean Pollution;" and Dr. Grover Stephens, Professor of Biological Sciences at the University of California at Irvine, speaking on the topic "Population: Problems and Priorities."

Martin D. Brown, Chairman of the Division of Life Sciences at FJC, will introduce the guests, and Fr. John W. Casey, President of FJC, will give the welcoming address.

Also on the program as session chairmen will be Jim Lawrence of the KABC Eyewitness News on Channel 7, and Dr. Daniel G. Aldrich, Chancellor of the University of California at Irvine.

Registration for the day-long symposium will be in the Theatre Arts Building on the college campus with a registration fee of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Sica Receives Research Grant

Research aimed at improving citizenship learning in elementary schools will be conducted by a California State College, Fullerton faculty member whose special interest is Mexican-American children.

Dr. Morris G. Sica of Placentia received a $9,249 grant from the U.S. Office of Education's regional research program, according to Dr. L. Donald Shields, vice president for administration.

An associate professor of education, Sica plans to compare the citizenship learning of 1,200 children from Anglo- and Mexican-American subcultures in Grades 4 through 8 of schools in Orange County and vicinity.

"I suspect," he said, "that the traditional textbook approach to civics is too abstract and unrealistic for many children, particularly those from families with little involvement or experience in the political process. What may be needed in addition to the traditional approach is practical information about the functioning of government and on how objectives are attained."

Although Sica intends to begin contacting school districts and refining his questionnaires this semester, most of his data will be gathered by means of written interviews immediately after the November general election. Results will be analyzed next spring and summer with a report due at the start of the fall semester of 1971.

"Previous research revealed numerous differences favoring upper socioeconomic status children in the degree of realism with which they view the political process," Sica said. "I expect the gap between social classes will be even greater with the additional variable of the unique Mexican-American subculture."

Through the questionnaires, to be administered with the permission of school authorities, the professor plans to research such questions as the children's citizenship knowledge, perception of government responsiveness, evaluation of leaders, attitude toward law, partisan commitment, political involvement and source of political orientation. In doing so, Sica's concern will not be the individual child's political beliefs but rather the citizenship maturity of children at different grade levels.

"The school's influence will be studied," Sica added, "by examining whether initial similarities and dissimilarities between subcultures and socioeconomic status groups that are found in early grades remain constant or change at successive grade levels."

Once the results are in, Sica plans to work with elementary school authorities in developing programs of study that will help disadvantaged Mexican- and Anglo-American children to learn the citizenship skills required for greater participation in the political process.

Concert Set At Cal State

A total of 130 students of California State College, Fullerton will participate Sunday, April 19, in a Lynda

Minor Memorial Concert sponsored by the music department.

Members of the 60-voice College Singers and the 70-member Symphony Orchestra will perform under their respective conductors, David O. Thorsen and Daniel G. Lewis, professors of music. The special concert will begin at 3 p.m. in Little Theater.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets, priced at $3 for reserved seats and $2 for general admission, will go towards defraying medical expenses incurred during the recent illness of Lynda Minor, the 14-year-old daughter of CSCF music faculty member, Benton L. Minor. Miss Minor passed away March 2 after an illness requiring hospitalization and a complete blood transfusion.

The Minor program in inspirational music for the concert will begin with performance of Archangelo Corelli's "Concerto Grosso" Op. 6, No. 4 by the College Singers with students Mary Reynolds, Kay Montgomery, both violinists, and Douglas Ischar, cellist, comprising a concertino.

The vocal group also will sing Hans Hassler's church motet for double choir—a work based on verses 10 and 11 of the second chapter of Luke—and Johann Pachelbel's "God is Our Refuge and Strength," the words of which are from Psalm 46.

Members of the orchestra will perform "Siegfried Idyll" composed by Richard Wagner as a serenade for his wife, celebrating the birth of his son, Siegfried, and the finale, performed by both groups, will be the Mass in G by Franz Schubert, written for four-part chorus, strings and continuo.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased by contacting the music department office at 870-3511.
